

Department of Community medicine runs rural health services in the Hajan Block of North Kashmir. Fully integrated health center has been established which provides primary health care to the local residents there. In addition immunization and health education programs are run there.